MEMBER SPOTLIGHT JAMES LORD, AIA

I am a Member because... the AIA provides a forum for the exchange of ideas. I have met most of my most-valued peers and many of my best friends through AIA. The AIA encourages conversations and interactions with fellow professionals who share the same ideals and aspirations.

My roles and responsibilities have changed dramatically across the three plus decades I have been enjoying our profession. I have spent the last past 32 years at KGA Architecture and have transitioned from a Project Design Architect to my current role as President and CEO. I am still as passionate about design as when I graduated from U of M and have just completed my Chair year at the AIA National Committee on Design.

What is the most important thing you've learned? The creative process is always changing. It is more than just technology driven as human perception comes from both anticipation and reaction. Our clients and our collaborators are different every day.

What is your favorite piece of architecture? Why? Venice or London take turns being the answer to this question. Each city has its own uniqueness of scale, urban fabric and response to the weather. I always feel refreshed in each city as I sit in the local coffee shop and marvel at life outside the window...

What person, living or dead, would you most like to talk with? I miss being able to talk with Gunnar Birkerts. He was the most visionary man I have had the privilege to meet. He was always very supportive of young professionals and fiercely encourage them to find their own voice.

If you were to change one thing about our profession today what would it be? I would give us all more time. The speed of today's needs for rewards and gratifications can sometimes come at the cost of opportunities or quality.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

AIA LAS VEGAS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

JENNIFER TURCHIN, AIA

With the first quarter of 2018 behind us, including a very successful Art, Architecture and Design Month, we've also seen a drop in membership across not only our local and state organization, but across AIA in general. So why AIA? Because it creates opportunities – and a community – for us as designers to share ideas beyond our offices and those we work with on a daily basis.

We can be enthusiastic and talk about our designs beyond our daily routine. AIA doesn't just provide educational opportunities, we also provide a time, place and space for all of us to share our stories. We have the 45th annual golf tournament coming up, we have mixers before every membership meeting and we are planning a fun get together for this summer. All of these opportunities are designed to engage our professional community.

We can share stories, knowledge and accomplishments that inspire us. Many of us had that opportunity to celebrate Nevada's newest fellow – Jon Sparer, FAIA, this month, and it was a great evening of hearing about the history of our AIA chapter, of architecture in Las Vegas and the contributions of so many architects in our region. To become a Fellow in the American Institute of Architects is the highest honor. AIA Nevada has a total of 13 Fellows and we are working to increase that distinguished list this year. To learn more about the Fellows Committee and Path to Fellowship please contact Edward A. Vance, FAIA.

We can inspire the next generation of students. Through the programs started and managed by AIA and AIA members, you can help encourage the next group of leaders. We have many opportunities to get involved from speaking and mentoring students to helping with our annual programs and assisting with scholarships and funding the UNLV School of Architecture.

- AIA/AIAS Mentoring Program – Designing the Future

This program was created to provide a comprehensive 2-year mentoring program for 3rd and 4th year AIAS members. The program is based on the idea that mentors/mentees who are closer in age and experience may have more in common and can more readily share their experiences, issues and concerns. Newly licensed architects, who have recently taken the ARE and completed their AXP, and associate members who are in the process of completing these requirements can assist and mentor the AIAS students who are just beginning these phases of licensure.

- AIA Las Vegas High School Design Awards

This program is the foundation of our community outreach to schools and in its 45th year, continues to identify and inspire high school students who are interested in pursuing careers in architecture. We are working to increase the number of schools who will participate in the program, and providing mentors and advisors to each architecture, drafting and art class that will participate.

- AIA Las Vegas Principal Shadow Program

Architecture Firm Principals can provide invaluable experience and knowledge to students who will soon enter the workforce or are working currently as interns in architecture offices. Sixth year graduate students in good standing will be invited to spend an afternoon(s) and/or day(s) shadowing a principal or other high level employee in various architectural firms throughout the year.

- The Education Outreach Committee

Continuing the program that began in 2017, members of AIA and AIAS will work together to schedule visits to various Middle and High School classes for presentations that will introduce the students to the career opportunities available in architecture and design. These presentations will be built around a powerpoint program that discusses quality architecture and inspires the students to learn more, become involved in the AIA LV High School Design Program, and to attend the UNLV School of Architecture.

- The School of Architecture Committee

In 2017 the Board of Directors established this committee with a stated mission to serve as a liaison between practicing professionals and the UNLV School of Architecture. This committee will work closely with the School to enhance professional and community engagement as well as build political and financial support for the School. This committee will serve as an advocate and advisory group for the School and its academic programs in all disciplines – Architecture, Interior Architecture and Design, Landscape Architecture and Planning.

It is YOUR AIA – Please get involved. Visit our website, contact a board member or committee chair or come down to the office and visit with our wonderful staff!

Please join us May 12 for Urban Sketchers, May 21 for our 45th Annual Golf Tournament and May 24 for our annual AIA Nevada/ NSBAIDRD Seminar. See all the events happening on the AIA Las Vegas website.

JUNE MEMBERSHIP MEETING

Panasonic Hollywood Laboratory

JUNE MEMBER MEETING NEXT GENERATION TECHNOLOGY ENGAGEMENT

Hosted by Panasonic Hollywood Laboratory (PHL)
A Division of Panasonic Corporation of North America

We are living in a miracle age... new technology, systems, applications, discoveries and information are announced every day. Really smart people like you can barely keep up..... that's why AIA Las Vegas is excited to bring you a June Member Meeting that will change the way you see the world.

The Panasonic Hollywood Laboratory (PHL) has joined with Apple, Videro, Edwards Technologies, Inc. and other partner companies to provide a special evening of discovery and insight for AIA Las Vegas Members into how leading-edge technology companies are taking visual engagement to the next level.

Panasonic Hollywood Labs focuses on digital cinema support to realize the creative ideas of exacting top film creators. Edwards Technologies, Inc. (ETI) has developed award winning, multi-sensory systems that are enjoyed literally every minute of every day somewhere on the planet. With each project, in association with Panasonic, Apple and Videro, the ETI team, led by Brian Edwards, designs and builds leading edge audio, visual, interactive systems coupled with cloud based Content Management systems backed by 24/7 support. This combination incorporates the business needs of the client and the demands of audiences that insist on highly engaging experiences. This is precisely the kind of technology needed when you are designing Theme Parks, Retail, Life Style Centers, Hospitality, Resorts, Restaurants, Museums/Zoos/Aquariums and Visitors' Centers and so many more entertainment venues.

Brad McDonald, CEO of Reveal Studio, and former designer at Walt Disney Imagineering, will act as emcee and share case studies of his award-winning architectural design experience and his keen insight to the environmental needs of both the interior and exterior spaces.

Ron Martin, Vice President and Director of Panasonic Hollywood Labs, and former Vice President of Engineering for Universal Studios Hollywood, led the efforts in developing the Digital High-Definition Television standard for the United States,

Barry Young, Regional Sales Manager for Edison Price Lighting has a 30 year history of working with lighting showrooms, architects, electrical engineers and lighting designers and will share his insights into IoT lighting in the design of museums, exhibits and retail spaces.

Join Us on Wednesday, June 27th... in the auditorium of the Historic Fifth Street School and you will learn through case study presentations and hands on demonstrations about the innovative and exciting technologies that allow you... the designer... to integrate light and sound into each new project. 5:30PM Cocktail Reception, 6:30PM Program begins. No Fee for AIA Members - $30.00 for guests. CLICK HERE to RSVP before June 22nd, 2018.

LAST CHANCE TO HOST AN AIA MEMBER MEETING IN 2018

August is the only month left! This year the Chapter is offering Architecture For Everyone. And, your firm can host your very own AIA Member Meeting on August 15th. All you have to do is select a month and make it your own. Showcase your company products and services and let the architectural community know that you are a proud partner with the AIA Las Vegas Chapter. The entire meeting is yours – make it whatever you want it to be.

- A Showcase tour of your firm or a project
- Offer a tour of your production facility
- Hold a special exhibit or demonstration
- Bring in a speaker or provide an interesting educational program
- Host a fun networking event

Choose your location or ours here at the Historic Fifth Street School, prepare the content and agenda. The cost for being a host is $2,000 to AIA Las Vegas with the host responsible for catering and other facility expenses when required. AIA Las Vegas will schedule your meeting on our website calendar and promote the event to our members and the whole architectural community. If CE credits are appropriate, AIA will manage the RSVP list and register the course with AIA National and then report the credits on behalf of the members in attendance. This is your chance to shine....and to share your special knowledge, and plans with the members, and decision makers in the architectural community. Secure your AIA Member Meeting month today --

August is the only remaining available month. Reserve right away. The sooner you do....the more promotion your company receives.

JOHN KLAJ, FAIA TO RECEIVE NDSU HONORARY DOCTORATE

NDSU alumnus John R. Klai II will be awarded an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters during the university's spring commencement ceremonies, scheduled for Saturday, May 12, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., in the Fargodome. Klai is being recognized as a visionary in architectural design, practice and education and for his outstanding service and contributions to NDSU. Klai is a native of Osnabrock, North Dakota. He earned his Bachelor of Science in architectural studies in 1977, and Bachelor of Architecture 1978.

Klai participated in NDSU Abroad during the summer of 1977 and received the North Dakota American Institute of Architects Medal for academic excellence in 1978. He moved to Las Vegas after graduation and started his career expanding Caesars Palace and its signature brand. In 1995, Klai and fellow NDSU alumnus, Dan Juba, founded their firm, Klai Juba Architects, and led the design, development and expansion of many Las Vegas icons, including Mandalay Bay, MGM Grand, Luxor, Hard Rock, Planet Hollywood and the LINQ, as well as projects that expanded economies of communities across the country.

He was nominated for NDSU's highest honor by David Bertolini, dean of the NDSU College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences, who described Klai as a national leader in the architectural profession and a role model for students.

"As a vital community leader, John is a force for positive social and cultural advancement at local, state, regional and national levels through his leadership in academia and in professional architectural and interior design licensure and regulatory organizations," Bertolini said. "His work is shaping the future of the design profession itself."

Klai became a trustee and active committee member of the NDSU Foundation and Alumni Association in 2003. He received NDSU's Alumni Achievement Award in 2006; committed support to Klai Hall and the expansion of NDSU's downtown campus, breaking ground to repurpose and expand the former Lincoln Mutual building in 2007; joined the acclaimed 1862 Society and dedicated Klai Hall with its Klai Juba Wald Architectural Studies Library in 2008. Klai received the NDSU Green and Golden Globe Diversity Award in 2015; the John Reynolds Klai II Endowed Scholarship was established in 2016; and he was enrolled into NDSU Foundation's Heritage Society for his planned legacy gift. For his extensive service, Klai was elevated into the American Institute of Architects' College of Fellows in 2015.

"Klai's personal mantra to 'give back' and decades-long philanthropy and service have created a legacy in architectural higher education. His professionalism, service and selflessness positively impact future generations at the AIA," said Albert W. Rubeling, 2015 Chancellor, American Institute of Architects College of Fellows.

"Dr. Klai and his husband, Jon Sparer, are enthusiastic ambassadors for NDSU," said fellow NDSU graduate Kristi Hanson in a letter of support. "John and his firm value, employ and mentor our graduates and instill home-grown North Dakota sensibilities and the Bison spirit in everything, advancing our university, its programs and the Fargo community across the country and beyond."

In another letter of support, Ganapathy Mahalingam, NDSU professor of architecture and landscape architecture, said, "A kind and generous man, with a distinguished set of professional accomplishments that have been recognized by his peers, Mr. Klai exemplifies what is good in humanity. He has lived a life guided by what is good and has touched the lives of many for the better."

In his nomination Bertolini said, "One thing is evident, Mr. Klai represents all that is great in North Dakota – hard work, giving back, commitment to one's community and to being North Dakota nice."

KLAI JUBA WALD ANNOUNCES INTERIORS STUDIO

Klai Juba Wald is pleased to announce the opening of its Interiors Studio effective April 2018 and excited to introduce a new firm leader. The addition of Interiors to their already successful Architectural Studio adds highly complementary creative strengths that enable us to expand their client-focused service offerings.

Ann Fleming, NCIDQ, IIDA, ASID, LEED Green Associate, active member of the Network of Executive Women in Hospitality, joins the firm as Principal of Interiors. Former Principal and Co-Founder of Cleo Design with over 20 years of experience, Ann is a leading Registered Interior Designer in hospitality and gaming and a member of the Nevada State Board of Architecture, Interior Design and Residential Design. She has worked with industry giants including MGM Resorts, Wynn Las Vegas, Seminole Hard Rock, and Cordish Development to name just a few. Her reputation for creating exceptional interior spaces and delivering unparalleled client service precedes her on every project. Klai Juba Wald is truly pleased to formalize KJW's long-standing and synergistic relationship with Ann. Together, Ann and KJW promise their tremendous list of loyal clients the same attention to detail and hands-on approach that they've always provided as Ann integrates Interiors into our Architectural Studio and expands KJW's presence.

"We could not be more excited about our new Interiors Studio. This is a perfect fit to complement our current architectural offerings and Ann's design acumen, leadership and knowledge of the market is significant," shares Brian Fink, KJW Principal. "We have worked with Ann for many years and she has grown to feel like part of the family. Her commitment to design and workplace strategies aligns with ours and she has developed a team of very talented staff."

CONGRATULATIONS VICTORIA!

Victoria Cousino, Associate AIA, WELL AP has earned the WELL Accredited Professional credential through the International WELL Building Institute, placing her among a select group of leading professionals who are dedicated to supporting human health and well-being in the built environment.

Victoria is one of only three individuals in the state of Nevada that holds the WELL Accreditation. The WELL AP credential is the new, leading credential signifying advanced knowledge of health and well-being in the built environment and specialization in the WELL building Standard.

WELL DONE ALEX!

Congratulations on a job well done to SHarchitecture's Alex Mireles, AIA on receiving his license to practice in the State of Nevada!

Alex enjoys his days helping to build the community through a variety of projects, including Charter Schools, Boy's and Girl's Clubs and Libraries. Watching a project take shape from the drawings is what he finds the most exciting!

A'19: CONFERENCE ON ARCHITECTURE IN LAS VEGAS! VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!

Today, May 1st, 2018 – WE (AIA Las Vegas Members) are only 401 Days away from hosting the A'19 Conference on Architecture here in Las Vegas. To many of you, architects and associates, that may sound like a very long time! But believe me From a planning, organization and fundraising standpoint.... It is not.

The AIA Las Vegas A'19 Committee needs your help as a VOLUNTEER for in the following areas.....

PARTNERSHIPS – We need those of you who have connections throughout the Las Vegas community to lend a hand in securing sponsorships and partners to support our hosting of the A'19 Conference.

"VIVA LAS VEGAS" TOURS – We need Tour Coordinators to secure and set-up the arrangements for the Educational and Guest Tours.... Tour Guides to provide the educational content for the tours, Tour Hosts to manage the tour and the tour group, attending each tour to make sure all runs smoothly. Tour Staff to help make sure sponsors receive the proper recognition.
If you would like to help with Tours, contact Randy Lavigne, at rlavigne@aianevada.org

PROGRAM AND ACTIVITY VOLUNTEERS – The Conference offers over 300 lectures, workshops, presentations, and activities, and each one needs a volunteer to assist in making each program run smoothly. That could be you!

AIA LAS VEGAS HOSPITALITY LOUNGE We need members who want to work with UNLV Students to design, gather materials, construct, furnish and install the LOUNGE, and then to act as hosts and hostesses during the convention.

AIA LAS VEGAS EXHIBITS ... We need members who want to work with the Exhibits Chair to showcase the work being done by Nevada architects, UNLV students and Urban Sketchers, to gather materials, build the exhibit boards....and install the exhibit next June.

ARCHITECTURE LAS VEGAS SPECIAL EDITION We need support! We will be publishing a special edition of our magazine – Architecture Las Vegas – and it will be distributed to each conference attendee in their registration welcome bag.

We need your help with all of these activities and more. And, if you volunteer and provide your time helping with the Conference, (total number of hours to be determined) you will receive free or reduced registration to attend the conference. If you would like to VOLUNTEER and be a part of hosting the A'19 Conference on Architecture..... contact Ashley Gould at Ashley.gould@korteco.com

EPYAF NEWS

TRAVIS ALLEN, ASSOC. AIA
EPYAF DIRECTOR

CANSTRUCTION 2018

A huge cheer to all the teams that are participating in this year's CANstruction exhibition! We had a fun build-day, followed by an amazing reception to kick-off the event. Congratulations to all the winners (check out the official announcement), we're excited to see your projects continue onto the national competition. Thank you as well to the CANstruction Committee, all the participated jurors and Mandalay Bay for making this exhibition such a success!

This year we were able to raise our record with over 11,000 cans donated! And that doesn't even count the additional cans being counted for the People's Choice Award. The exhibition is still on display until May 6, so be sure to stop by the Mandalay Bay (near Shark Reef) and donate your own cans of food to vote for the People's Choice Award (1 CAN = 1 VOTE).

Join the AIALV Board of Directors!

Nominations are currently being taken for the 2019 AIA Las Vegas, Board of Directors open positions. If you are looking for a way to get more involved and be a part of the leaders within the local architectural community, then now's your chance! The position of Director of Emerging Professionals is a worthwhile and exciting experience, and helps exponentially grow one's professional development. Contact me if you would like to discuss more!

As always, if you are interested in helping out with the planning and promoting of these events, have some ideas of your own, or would like to be part of the Emerging Professionals committee in any way – please email me: tallen@csdarchitecture.com

Thanks!

This year's focus:

Human-Centered Design

Human-Centered Design is an approach that considers the human perspective throughout every step of the design process. Dive into discussions that aim to understand the influence of technology on the human mind and body and how we can leverage that knowledge to produce better and more meaningful outcomes that resonate with individuals.

Join designers, brand marketers, architects, integrators, and live events producers for this full-day, thought-leadership conference and let TIDE open your mind to new possibilities and fresh perspectives.

CONGRATULATIONS MERLIN CONTRACTING

Steve Jones, Founder & CEO of Merlin Contracting, Las Vegas, along with his partner and brother, Bart Jones, and the entire Merlin staff, was recently honored as the 2017 National Custom Home Builder of the Year by the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB). Sponsored by Sherwin-Williams™, the award was presented during the NAHB International Builders' show held in Orlando, FL.

Presented annually by the NAHB, a federation of more than 700 state and local associations with more than 140,000 members, the Custom Home Builder of the Year award recognizes honorees for their professionalism, leadership, innovation and creativity in crafting unique custom homes. Jones and the Merlin team were recognized for the company's craftsmanship and innovation in creating "dream homes" for clients, as well as their integrity, contribution, and leadership within the local community.

"It's such an honor for our team to be recognized by the NAHB," said Jones. "Our goal is always to satisfy our customers' unique visions with creativity and quality, and this award recognizes the ongoing achievement of that goal. Bart and I couldn't be more proud of the effort put forth daily by our experienced team of superintendents and entire staff."

JOIN THE COUNCIL OF EXCELLENCE

AIA Members and School of Architecture Alumni have a real opportunity to be actively involved in guiding the future of the UNLV School of Architecture and the profession. JOIN the COUNCIL of EXCELLENCE! In 2017 the AIA Las Vegas Board of Directors established the AIA LV School of Architecture Committee to serve as a liaison between practicing professionals and the UNLV School of Architecture.

The Committee has reinstated the School of Architecture Council of Excellence, and is asking you to consider becoming a Council of Excellence Member. Individual annual memberships start at $1,000.00 and Firm memberships start at $5,000.00 per year.

Your commitment will allow the School of Architecture to provide:

- Seed money for new initiatives
- Technology advancements for classrooms and purchase of new equipment
- Student scholarships for tuition and travel
- Funds for marketing the School of Architecture
- Resources for recruitment of students and faculty
- Support for Architectural publications

We hope you will join the Council of Excellence by making a donation to support the School, its programs, students and faculty through your membership. Your advocacy, advice and participation are vital to the growth of the UNLV School of Architecture program.

To join the Council of Excellence please make checks payable to the UNLV Foundation and mail to AIA Las Vegas, 401 S. 4th St., Ste: 175, Las Vegas, NV. 89101 Attn: Randy Lavigne, Hon. AIA or contact Tom Schoeman at thomasjschoeman@gmail.com.

PROFILE of the UNIVERSITY

UNLV is a doctoral-degree-granting institution of approximately 29,000 students and more than 3,000 faculty and staff that is classified by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching as a research university with high research activity. UNLV offers a broad range of respected academic programs and is on a path to join the top tier of national public research universities. The university is committed to recruiting and retaining top students and faculty, educating the region's diversifying population and workforce, driving economic activity through increased research and community partnerships, and creating an academic health center for Southern Nevada that includes the launch of a new UNLV School of Medicine. UNLV is located on a 332-acre main campus and two satellite campuses in Southern Nevada. For more information, visit us online at: <http://www.unlv.edu>

COMMITMENT to DIVERSITY

The successful candidate will demonstrate support for diversity, equity and inclusiveness as well as participate in maintaining a respectful, positive work environment.

ROLE of the POSITION

The Director of Design and Associate University Architect (Director of Design) directly supervises UNLV Planning and Construction project management staff focused on project design and related items, to manage design projects, support campus design activities/initiatives, oversee and manage campus design standards and to provide design support and design management during the bidding/buyout and construction of projects. The Director of Design, working with project management staff, also oversees FF&E standards, planning, delivery and installation. A major component of the responsibilities of this position is to deliver projects with an appropriate, suitable and acceptable level of design and overall quality, to achieve the project's objectives, that is in compliance with UNLV standards, while working within scope, budget and schedule parameters established for the project - all in support of meeting the functional and strategic objectives of the university through the delivery of the project.

The Director of Design communicates and collaborates with university and external departments/agencies to support project design and delivery; provides regular updates to the Executive Director on project status, priorities, areas of concern, items in need of attention, staff professional development and other items to support the successful outcomes of projects related to scope, schedule, budget/cost and quality level; a highly functioning, responsive and collaborative team of design project management staff; and support of the overall success related to department efforts in support of university goals and strategic initiatives.

ARCHITEX! is just like Classic Sudoku. It is a symbol placing puzzle based on a 9x9 grid with several given symbols. The object is to place the symbols in the empty squares so that each row, each column and each 3x3 box contains the same symbol only once.

The symbols are A, R, C, H, I, T, E, X and !

Good Luck.!

		A	H		C	I
!				T			R
	X	!			R	T
H			T	R	A		X
X		I	H	E		T
	T	E			!	X
A			C			I
	C	A		T	H
